Introduction

How to get to PolyLAN 37?

The LAN takes place at the bottom floor of the SwissTech Convention Center, which you can access via the western entrance (bottom floor):

SwissTech Convention Center
Route Louis-Favre 2
1024 Ecublens

More details: <https://polylan.ch/evenement/acces>

We suggest you park your car inside the Migros parking (1st hour is free) to unload your belongings and take it to the LAN and then move your car to the free parking, side south to the metro.

Organisation

What should you take to the LAN? (A 10m long network cable!!!)

All the answers to any other question can be found at: <https://polylan.ch/evenement>

For minors

Minors have to bring a signed parental consent form, without which entry to the event will be refused. You can find the necessary form here: <https://polylan.ch/inscriptions/downloadParentalAut/>

Arrival at my first PolyLAN

At the entrance you will have to announce and show your identity card, you will receive your GamerID and you will then be brought to your place by a kind staff member.

The Gamer ID

For those who have one, do not forget your Gamer ID! In addition to being useful all throughout the LAN, it is mandatory for identification purposes (don't forget your card, if you have lost it we will make a new one for you for 5CHF). It will also be necessary to get your reserved meals.

For those that don't have one, please take your identity card so we can legitimize you.

Chairs

For room and logistics reasons, it is forbidden to bring your own chairs with you (except for medical reasons). The provided chairs are comfortable :-)

Your luggages and the corridors

Please don't leave your luggages in the corridors. Put your things where it is allowed. Participants who won't follow our instructions will be excluded from the LAN.

Sleeping

It is strictly forbidden to sleep in the main LAN area. We have a dedicated sleeping room available so you can sleep well. Take what you need to be comfortable, without exaggerating, we only provide a roof.

Attention, if we run out of space in the sleeping room, large unoccupied mattresses will be removed outside the zone. Prefer small mattresses if you do not want to end up with nothing!

Showers

Showers are available in EPFL buildings but the doors are secured. That's why we organize shower slots to register. Nice staff will guide you to the showers.

Our partnership with Viv'Eden EPFL allows us to offer "premium" showers for 5CHF in free access (Saturday/Sunday/Monday: 8:30AM-12:30PM). You will have to show your GamerID to the reception of Viv'Eden EPFL.

There will be a fitness activity on Sunday from 11AM to midday (registration on the intranet), take your sportswear :)

Your PolyLAN end

When you leave the LAN it's imperative to clean all the waste you could have left on or under your seats, there are enough garbage cans available. Checks will be carried out and cleaning bills will be sent to teams that have left waste.

When leaving, you will also have to announce to the reception that will update your status to "gone".

We accept all persons who can help us to dismantle the LAN after the prize-giving, the meal is offered when everything is disassembled.

PolyLAN 37

Visitors

The access to the building has to be paid for the visitors (5CHF for the entire event). Schedules for visitors are from 8am to 10pm. This means that visitors are not allowed to sleep in the building.

Seating

The seating will be published by Thursday night: <https://polylan.ch/placement>

Things can change until the last minute, so pay attention to the instructions our staff will give you.

Tournaments and animations

The complete schedule of the tournaments and animations is available here:

<https://polylan.ch/website/horaires>

As you may already know, there are free slots in the animation planning called "Anim Joueur". Players can submit an "Anim Joueur" via Plamingo and the other participants can vote for their favorite game. An admin will contact the player who proposed the game with the most votes and ask him to organize it.

The Rules

This is about the thing where you click "Accept" without reading it when you register. Yes we know. I suggest you read or reread it once before the LAN and keep it in mind during the whole week-end: <https://polylan.ch/evenement/reglement>

Small reminder: glass bottles are strictly forbidden inside the STCC !

Animations rules

The animations rules are available here: <https://polylan.ch/evenement/reglementAnimation>

Tournament rules

The rules for each tournament will soon be made available here:

<https://polylan.ch/evenement/reglementTournoisP37>

Prizes distribution

It will happen around 4:30PM. Participants are called following the descending number of points acquired. If your friend is not available you are allowed to take his prize but it will be necessary to present us his ID or his GamerID at the award ceremony.

Weather

A part of the access way to the building is not covered. In case of rain, it would be a good idea to cover your equipment.

The eternal questions

For all the eternity questions, there is this webpage where you can always have a look :

The Network

Connect to the Internet

Please carefully read the following two pages. In case of a problem, you can come to the committee corner to ask for help from the network admins.

When connecting a console, it is also necessary to ask only to the network's admins.

Communication from the network team

To ensure that everything will get well at the network level when installing yourself in PolyLAN, please do the following tasks:

- Completely uninstall (or disable) Hamachi and restart the computer
- Disable your antivirus before network connection, and then re-enable it later
- Cutting each Software that could interfere with your network

Authentication procedure to PolyLAN's network for Windows 7/8/10

In order to connect your computer to the Internet, please follow the steps below (You must come to the reception desk to have Internet connectivity):

1. Open the services window:
 - Press on the Windows key and type “services.msc” then Enter.
or
 - Click on the Start menu then right-click on Computer and choose “Manage”, go in “Services and Applications” and click on “services”.
2. Find the line called “Wired AutoConfig” in the list, right-click on it and choose “properties”.

3. In the “General” tab, change the “Startup type” to “Automatic” (not “Automatic (Delayed Start)”).

4. Start the service by clicking on “Start” under “Service Status”. Click on “OK”.
5. Go to the window that lists your network interfaces (“Network and Sharing Center”) and select the “Change adapter settings” menu.

6. Right-click on the Ethernet interface and select “Properties”. Choose the “Authentication” tab and check “Enable IEEE 802.1X authentication”.
7. Click on “Settings” and then in the “Protected EAP Properties” verify that the check box next to “Check the server’s identity by validating the certificate” is unchecked.

8. In the same window, click on the “Configure...” button located next to “Secured password (EAP-MSCHAP v2)” and uncheck the option in it.
9. Click “OK” twice. Go to “More Settings...” and tick “Specify authentication mode”. In the dropdown menu, choose “User Authentication”. Then click “OK” twice.
10. Unplug and reconnect your cable, a pop-up should appear. Use your PolyLAN login to log (case sensitive).
11. Go to `intranet.polylan` in a browser.
12. Fill the pop-up with your PolyLAN identifiers (the same as on the website).

Procedure to disable authentication (for when you go home)

1. Return in the “Services” as in point 1. of the previous procedure.
2. Select the same service as before, then right-click -> “Properties”
3. In the “General” tab, change the startup type to “Manual” or “Disabled”.
4. Stop the service by clicking on “Stop” below.
